

Quality Policy

DCL is committed to provide a high degree of value in products and services through dedication to quality, continual improvement and risk based thinking. To achieve these objectives it is our policy to:

- Understand customer needs and accordingly design products to meet or exceed customer's requirements for emissions, noise, durability and reliability;
- Extend excellent customer support and service at all times; and
- Seek opportunities for development and improvement of products, manufacturing methods and resources.

We pledge dedicated efforts and commitment of our employees toward fulfillment of the above.
